

Richfield, Utah January 29, 1911

A blessing by William Henry Seegmiller, Patriarch, upon the head of REBECCA MAY EAMES GLEDHILL, daughter of David C. Eames and Elizabeth Greaves Eames, born December 28, 1886 at Preston Oneida County, Idaho.

Sister Rebecca May Gledhill: I lay my hands upon your head to give you a Patriarchial Blessing that may prove a comfort to you during your mortal career.

Thou art of Ephrium and entitled to the blessings of the daughters of Zion. Thou being upon the earth at the present time was all for-ordained by our Heavenly Father. Thou art assigned a great mission in mortality and God will strengthen and bless you for the labors and duties required of you. Thy influence will be great among the sisters with whom you may be associated, and they will regard you as being especially endowed to teach and instruct them in the important principals necessary for the education of the daughters of Zion.

God will bless you in your body and strengthen you for your labors as a mother in Israel. He will give you additional children to the one you now have, and you will be blessed with wisdom and intelligence to guide them in attaining to an understanding of those principals necessary to their salvation and exaltation. Your children shall grow up to be very useful and prominent in the work of the Lord.

I therefore say unto you, be not discouraged for God will bless and strengthen you wherein you are weak and enable you to fully perform your assigned mission in mortality.

You shall be among the daughters of Zion prepared to meet the Redeemer when he shall come in clouds of glory to destroy the wicked and establish his kingdom of righteousness and to bless His covenant children.

Therefore, look to your Heavenly Father in confidence for he has a great work for you to preform among the daughters of Zion. I bless you that you may constantly be a shining light, that the talents God has given you in the use of language may be increased and added to.

You will live upon the earth to accomplish all that your Heavenly Father has designed for you to preform in this life.

I seal you up to come forth in the morning of the first resurrection to enjoy the society of your husband and children in the presence of the Redeemer, to dwell upon the earth during the great Millennial day, a priestess forever in the House and Kingdome of our God. All of these blessings I seal upon your head upon the conditions of your observance of the laws and commandments of God, In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, Amen.